

November 13, 1924

Clarence Dobberpuhl, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William Dobberpuhl, was born May 29, 1907, in Gem township. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran church. After confirmation he enrolled in the Aberdeen normal, which he attended in 1921 and 1922. In 1923 he entered Groton high school as a student, being a senior at the time of his death.

Clarence became ill on October 22, and was taken to an Aberdeen hospital October 26, where he died November 1, from the effects of typhoid fever and heart failure. He was a member of the James Lutheran Young People's Society, and was a dutiful, conscientious and friendly boy, loved by companions in school and a great host of relatives and friends outside of the school.

The funeral was held Wednesday, conducted by Rev. F. E. Wilke.
